

HATTIESBURG AREA HISTORICAL SOCIETY

HAHS MUSEUM
P.O. BOX 1573
HATTIESBURG, MISSISSIPPI 39403-1573

Dr. Milam Cotten, local ophthalmologist, whose hobby is sculpturing with welding equipment. Hattiesburg Area Historical Society is documenting several pieces of his sculpture through the Mississippi Department of Archives and History for Smithsonian's Save Outdoor Sculpture Project.

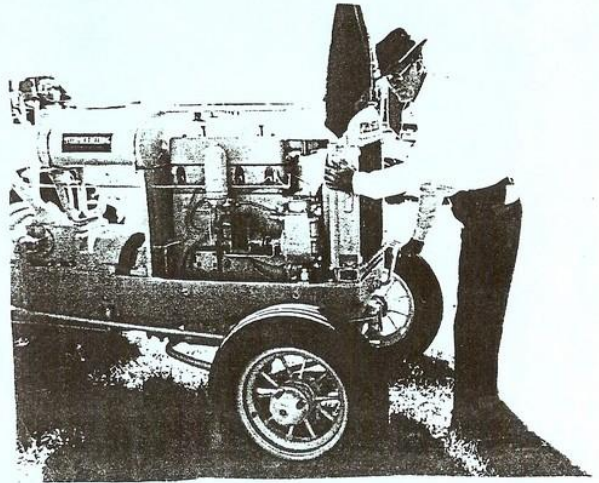

HATTIESBURG AREA HISTORICAL SOCIETY
INVITES YOU
TO A DEMONSTRATION
OF
WELDING EQUIPMENT
AND
ANTIQUÉ GASOLINE ENGINES
BY
DR. MILAM COTTEN
AND
MR. JOE SPELL

NON-PROFIT ORGANIZATION
BULK RATE
U.S. POSTAGE
PAID
PERMIT NO. 95
HATTIESBURG, MS 39403

TIME; SATURDAY, APRIL 30, 1994. 10 A.M. - 1 P.M.
PLACE: MISSISSIPPI POWER COMPANY BOAT BARN
(current home of The Leaf c.1830, rescued riverboat relic)
400 SOUTHERN AVENUE
NO CHARGE FOR ADMISSION
BROWN BAG LUNCHES MAY BE PURCHASED
OPPORTUNITY FOR NEW PEOPLE TO JOIN HAHS AND FOR 1994 DUES TO BE PAID

H.A.H.S.

"It works for you."

Joe G. Spell is a collector and restorer of antique gas engines and tractors. His collection is well known and has been exhibited throughout the State. Together, Spell and Cotten are responsible for the handsome sign at Oaklawn Cemetery on Hardy Street. They are currently working to restore the Riverview Cemetery archway on Leaf River. Both of these projects are a labor of love for the area.